

G

PARENTAL ADVISORY EXPLICIT @#&%!

is for *Gangsta

G. XAVIER ROBILLARD

G is for Gangsta*

G is for Gangsta was conceived and written in New York, Boston and Portland, Oregon. It was recorded underwater in my basement where I used a road cone for a microphone, shouting at the top of my lungs while fending off attacks from venomous and soggy nutria, in Portland.

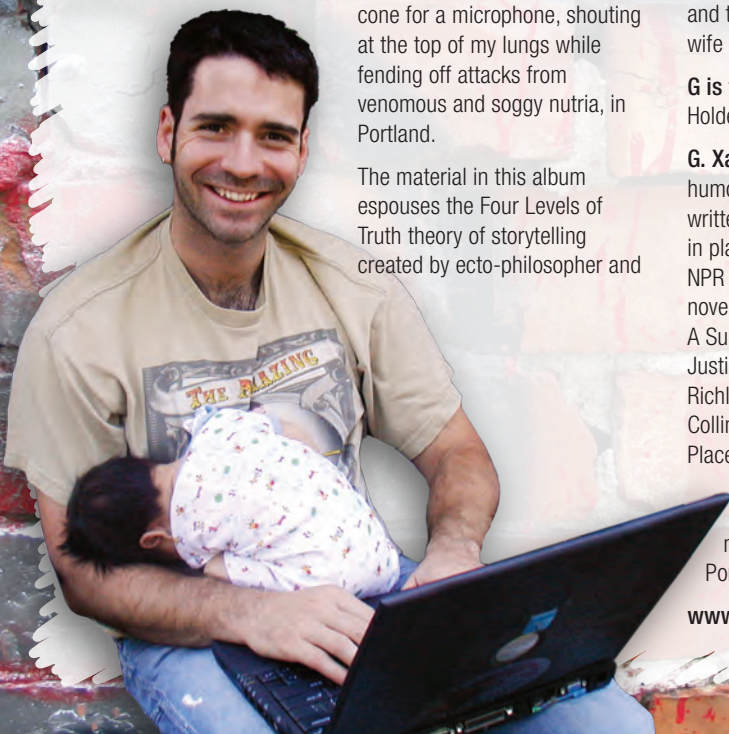

The material in this album espouses the Four Levels of Truth theory of storytelling created by ecto-philosopher and Shaolin warrior Nash Graham-Cash, who said that the levels of truth are lies, absolute truth, opinion, which if you say it enough times becomes truth, and truth (unless you talk to my wife about it).

G is for Gangsta is a Hank Holden Production.

G. Xavier Robillard is a humorist and fiction writer. He's written for radio, web, and print, in places like Comedy Central, NPR and McSweeney's. His novel, "Captain Freedom: A Superhero's Quest for Truth, Justice and the Celebrity He So Richly Deserves" (Harper Collins) received Awesome Place™ for the 2010 Thurber Prize for American Humor. He teaches and programs man-eating robots in Portland, OR.

www.alldaycoffee.net

Acknowledgments

Music for G is for Gangsta (parts I-III) performed and recorded by Matthew Dundas at The Comp, Brooklyn, NY

Photo credits: Cover headshot by Justin Ide, www.justinide.com; "Rust" by Kate Walsh, "Wiry" by Raena Armitage, "Urban Vancouver" by Jason Antony, and "Graffiti" by Alix Morse from stock.xchg.

Graphic design by Ian Carey, iancareyjazz.com/design.

Credit for sound samples can be found at www.alldaycoffee.net/gangsta

Thanks to my posse that rolls deeper than Stephen Hawking's comprehension of string theory:

The Attic Writers' Workshop, The Basement Writing Workshop, Blunt Girl (4 realz tho), Ian Carey, Comedy Central, Cube, Matt Dundas, Dennis DiClaudio, Andrew Fuller, Gladstone (for the pathos), Hank Holden Productions, Live Wire Radio, Mom, Chris Monks, Christopher Moore, Neal Pollack, Pat Bryson, the Republic of South Korea, John Robillard, Nancy Robillard, The Rocking Frog, Jason Roeder, Matt Tobey, Wordstock, the Writers' Dojo and of course the Wu Tang Clan, all 7,634 of you.

(not really)

- 1 G is for Gangsta part I
- 2 Suburban Deer
originally performed for the Utter Wonder series, Cambridge, MA
- 3 I don't eat burritos anymore
originally performed for the Captain Freedom release party, New York City
- 4 The funniest thing about...
originally performed for the True Stories series, Portland, OR
- 5 Fax Machine you're my Worst Girlfriend
- 6 G is for Gangsta part II
- 7 Likely Answers to Job Interview Questions
- 8 My Own Personal Tax Haven
originally performed at Oswego State University, Oswego NY
- 9 Renew Johnny!
- 10 Movie Ratings
- 11 G is for Gangsta part III
- 12 Summer Vacation at Burning Man
published in McSweeney's
- 13 This is how you found me
Search terms that brought you to my website

